

THE RED CROSS

Special Program for the Week of March 24-31.

American Red Cross cables from Europe urge IMMEDIATE RELIEF for hundreds of thousands who are in need of clothing.

Every family can spare something from its stores at this time of the year.

The Juniors will be asked to spread the news and help collect. Library rooms will be open every afternoon.

—Mrs. J. D. Dannley, chairman.

Preserve the Khaki!

In answer to inquiries from soldiers regarding the return of uniforms, Miss Wells has information that they may be KEPT.

In this connection, it is too much to hope that these uniforms which mean so much to us now, may be carefully treasured in the "family archives", not to be worn out and misused as working clothes, as citizen clothing supplants them for general wear?

"Dear were they to us as they went away, And now returning are they dearer still."

Red Cross Chapter Calls Members To Subscribe for Red Cross Magazine

Once more Medina County Chapter members are called upon to show their loyalty. For the first time in its history our chapter has fallen down and did not respond to the call.

The Red Cross magazine is the official organ of the Red Cross and is issued once a month by the organization printing department. It is a breezy, bright magazine, full of good reading matter of more than ordinary interest, and will keep you posted on all the general activities of the Red Cross at home and abroad. It furnishes a fund of information which can not be supplied by other magazines, and keeps you in touch with the general activities of the war department. It has facts, figures and fiction—in fact, it is a very complete and up-to-date magazine.

This chapter has been assigned 286 subscriptions at $1.00 per year to all Red Cross members and $2.00 per year, including membership, to those joining now. We have now, about 95 subscribers in the county and have been requested to fill the balance of our quota at once. We have names of some who were secured during the Christmas Roll Call who have not received the January number, which is probably due to the names not reaching the magazine department in time to be placed on the roll.

We will make another concerted effort to secure the required 191 subscriptions, and are asking that all Red Cross members send name and $1.00 to the secretary, Miss Florence Thatcher, or to your auxiliary chairman.

The only way these subscriptions can be secured in the short time is for each member to "get busy" and send at once. The auxiliary chairmen are asked to report without delay.

When the Troopships Come In.

A greatest cheer reaches the outlanders huddled in the water front street, and that's a sign that the gang plank at last has definitely connected the troopship with one forty-eighth of these United States. The overworked band rips forth the opening strains of the classic which greets all homecoming soldiers and blue-jackets; so great is the thrill that even the Red Cross girls forget themselves to the extent of lifting their soprano voices, too, when the home-coming, soaking with joy, burst forth in the immortal lyric of the anthem: "Hail! Hail! The gang's all here! What the hell do we care NOW!"

Ambulances clang, hospital tugs and lighters slosh away with their happy cargoes bound for troop train or hospital. From street to pier head the crowds melt. And the lads in olive drab have begun the last lap of a journey which soon is to land them at their factory jobs again, in the shops or on the peaceful valley farms of America which to many, at the beginning of the war, may have been (to quote the great ex-president

Henry Edwards Is South With the Indians

YOU fans who follow the Indians will be glad to know that Henry Edwards, dean of American league baseball writers, will again cover the activities of the Cleveland club for The Plain Dealer.

Mr. Edwards went south this week with the team, and his stories are now featuring The Plain Dealer's Daily Sporting Section.

For Sporting News Read The Plain Dealer

The advantage of reading a morning paper is perhaps best illustrated in sporting news. The Plain Dealer is the only Cleveland paper which regularly prints complete box scores of all major league games. It is almost invariably first with accounts of games, races, boxing contests, and all other important athletic events.

HIGHER DEATH RATE IN FLU RECURRENCE

The outstanding feature of Ohio's present recurrence of influenza, according to state health officials, is a higher number of deaths in proportion to cases than prevailed a month or two ago. Cases, so far as incomplete reports to the State Department of Health can be taken as an indication, are believed to be less numerous than they were in the January flare-up, but the death total is about the same as at that time.

The recurrence is attributed in part to relaxation of precautions by the public. More persons than formerly are now frequenting public gatherings in many communities, it is said. Warmer and more settled weather is expected to bring about an improvement in the situation.
